BILL TO REDUCE W. T. IS KILLED

SWAP DAY WILL BE HELD IN CANYON ON NEXT MONDAY

FARMERS ARE ASKED BRING IN ARTICLES

Stock and Farming Implements Will be For Swap

MERCHANTS TO JOIN

Auction Sale to be Held at 3:00 O'clock in Afternoon

Swap Day for Canyon is scheduled for next Monday, March 27th.

Every person in Randall county who has something that they wish to dispose of is urged to have it in Canyon on that day, and offer it for swapping.

Headquarters for the traders will be established on the L. T. Lester lots, north of the First National Bank. Those who have articles for trade are asked to assemble them there, and to make such propositions as they desire for the disposition of these articles.

In view of the advancing spring, it is likely that livestock and farm implements will be offered in a number of cases. Farmers are asked to bring these in for the swap day.

The facilities of the Chamber of Commerce have been offered to make this day a success. The directors have extended a cordial invitation to the people of Randall county to be in Canyon on that date and to bring with them any article which they have to dispose of to offer for swap or for sale.

At three o'clock Col. J. W. McCrerey will hold an auction sale in which may be placed any article, new or old, that the people of the county are willing to sell. Merchants are invited to offer merchandise for sale. Col. McCrerey will make a charge of 5% on the sale price for this sale. Fred E. Wortham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will be the clerk of the sale.

It is hoped that all merchants of Canyon will have on special Swap Day bargains to offer the people of Randall county for this day.

Education Victim of the Tax Dodgers

Bankers Cover Mistakes In Fight to Reduce Taxes

Educational problems were discussed Tuesday at the luncheon of the Rotary Club, with Dr. Joe Hill and Supt. C. E. Davis of Plainview discussing the question.

"I did not believe that any people could change their ideas about education so quickly as they have in America," stated Mr. Davis. "Some of them changed overnight." He described the situation as one in which the investment bankers of the east sought to cover their own dealings in unloading worthless securities on the American people by building a smoke screen against education. After they pulled the boner in these securities, they got together and decided to make a drive on taxes, with the result that the schools were the victims of their assault. The fight on taxes was spread through the chambers of commerce. According to Mr. Davis, education has taken a backset which will take years to recover. The friends of education must get together and stand together.

Mr. Davis and Walter Thatcher came to Canyon to extend an invitation to the Rotary Club to attend the Inter-City meeting of Rotary to be held in that city next Tuesday night.

Dr. Hill talked on his recent trip to Austin. On March 6, 7, 8, the colleges were heard before the House Appropriations Committee. While nothing definite was learned, a most cordial hearing resulted. It was indicated that a reduction of at least 25% would be made in the appropriations for the

CARS MUST BE EQUIPPED WITH NEW 1933 TAGS

April First Is the Limit For Buying New Plates

ONE MORE WEEK

Penalty Improved Against Car Owners Without New Tags

All cars which are to be used in Randall county this year must be provided with the new 1933 license plates by the first of April according to a bill passed by the legislature which postponed the time for this payment from February 1st.

Tax Collector R. N. Barnett states that all car owners who do not have their cars equipped with the new plates by that time will be subject to a fine. In view of the fact that highway patrolmen are working all of the highways in this section, no clemency may be expected for those who do not follow the provisions of the law.

License plates may be secured at the office of the tax collector, and the office in South Amarillo is open for the convenience of those living in the north part of the county.

Another Birthday

Thirty-seven years have come and gone since the first issue of Canyon City News, was issued in a small plant equipped with crude machinery in contrast to that of today. The paper, the outgrowth of several publications which had sprung up in the few years prior to its establishment, only to cease publication, saw this country at that time as almost an open frontier, but its founder had a vision. He could see into the distant future the possibilities of development and progress and in a country so new and promising as this he felt that it would not fail.

During the years since the founding of the News, it has served as a mirror to reflect the advancement of the people of this city and surrounding territory. Recording each week the current happenings which have resulted in a marvelous change in the years, it is practically the oldest living institution in the county.

In the pages of its files have been chronicled the achievements of the people of this country; their goings and comings; marriages, births, and deaths; always pointing with vision of brightness to the future in times of depression and ever ready to aid any worthy cause.

From the little sheet of thirty-seven years ago and the small crudely equipped plant, the News has grown to what it is today —one among the leaders in the newspaper field of the Panhandle, a position which it is proud to claim. It is with the same type of vision, that its founder had, that the News, today, looks into the future with the aim and desire to better serve.

Highways Will Be Treated With Oil

Caliche Is Blowing Badly and Oil Will Cut Maintenance

Oil treatment for the caliche highways of Randall county has been ordered by the State Highway Commission which will be started during this week. W. J. Van London, district engineer, announced that oil was in transit and would be applied to the highways of the county as soon as it arrives, which will probably be during the coming week.

The dry weather and the high winds has made it necessary to haul water for the highway between Canyon and Happy in order to hold the caliche. This has proven very expensive as a means of maintenance, hence the order to apply oil until the asphalt topping could be applied.

Six Names Are Filed For Place on School Board

The annual election of school trustees will be held Saturday, April 1st in the Canyon Independent School district. The term of office of T. V. Slack and R. E. Ball will expire. Mr. Ball has asked that his name be left off the official ballot for re-election.

Five names have been filed with J. W. Shanklin, secretary of the school board for places on the ticket for this election. These are: T. V. Slack, R. E. Foster, C. R. Flesher, Joe Black, Alfred Bellah, and G. W. Cox.

The tickets will not be printed until Monday of next week in order to give an opportunity for other names to be filed if the voters desire. The term of office will be for three years, since the change was made by the legislature two years ago extending the term of office of all school trustees from two to three years.

COMMITTEE IS OPPOSED ANY CHANGES W. T.

Vote Monday Night Is Favorable to the Colleges

ONE BOARD IDEA UP

Education Committee In Action Against College Changes

The House of Representatives Education committee has voted to eliminate from the Anderson-Metcalfe-Hughes bill all provisions for the reduction in rank of the colleges of Texas. This bill provided that the West Texas State Teachers College and several other colleges be made junior colleges, and was bitterly opposed by friends of education throughout the state. Dr. J. A. Hill lead the fight in the committee for all the teachers colleges.

The only provision which remains in the bill is a provision for a single board of regents to govern all of the 17 institutions of higher education. This provision is still before the committee and is being re-written. It is expected that the committee will vote upon the one-board plan some time this week. If the bill as re-written is approved by the committee it will meet with opposition in the House and in the Senate.

A. & M. College has lead the fight against a one-board governing body for the educational institutions of the state, and is likely to continue the fight before the legislature. None of the presidents of the institutions have approved this idea of central management of the colleges.

Another bill affecting the colleges was killed yesterday by the State Affairs committee. This was the omnibus reorganization bill which affected all departments of government, including the colleges. An attempt will be made today to bring this bill out on minority report.

Bills which affect the colleges that are still to be acted upon are the tuition and the local fee bill. It is proposed to greatly increase the tuition in all of the state colleges, and this is being opposed by the educators of the state. The other bill would force all departments and institutions to place in the state treasury all of the local funds, which would greatly cripple the colleges of the state.

It is expected that the appropriations bill will be voted out of the House committee during this week.

CONFIDENCE ABROAD

It is gratifying that no matter what the European nations think of America, they still have confidence in the future of this nation, and have confidence in the stability of the financial structure of the United States.

While the banking holiday was on, and conditions looked bad in this country, the following was written by Herbert N. Casson, the foremost business writer in England:

"It is plain to all of us in Europe that the United States is fast approaching a crisis, when every citizen will be tested to see what he is made of.

"At the moment we in Europe have more faith in the American people than they have in themselves.

"We know that they will survive their sea of trouble. They may be half drowned, but they will come through.

"We in England have gone thru similar periods of collapse. But we always came through and became more prosperous than ever.

"Eighty years ago England was down and out. It was smitten with a blight of poverty.

"Even Disraeli lost hope. He said: 'In industry, commerce and agriculture there is no hope.'

"Even the Duke of Wellington lost hope. He said: 'I thank God I shall be spared the consummation of ruin that is gathering about us.'

"What happened? Thirty years later every mill and factory in England was working overtime and England had become 'the workshop of the world.'

"Many a country in Europe has been laid flat by invading armies, but always that country came up again.

"We in England do not believe in the permanence of disaster. Whenever we are struck down by trouble we say, 'This, too, shall pass.'

"We have learned that the most sensible man in a crisis is the man who keeps his head. We know that the supreme virtue in this world is stamina.

"Every man who hoards money, every man who stops advertising, every man who loses heart and hope, prevents the restoration of confidence.

"Eventually, prosperity in the United States will be restored. We in Europe know that.

"But we know that the quickness of the recovery will depend upon the number of citizens who remain stout hearted and steady-headed.

The man of the moment in America is the man who takes a long view, the man who keeps his head and carries on."

They say we shall have legal beer by April 4th. After then the United States may get on a glorious drunk, pay the national debts and become exceedingly prosperous, all on account of beer being returned. Many of those who are howling so loudly for the repeal of the 18th amendment and return of beer disclaim their desire for the return of the saloon. They are unable to explain their position of seeking free and easy access to booze without the saloon or some equally vicious method of distribution of liquor. Our prediction is that if the 18th amendment should be repealed, that the liquor forces will make themselves so ridiculous and their methods will be so vicious that liquor will again be voted out of the United States, and forever banished from the nation. There may be a few antis who are honest in their opposition to the return of the saloon, but a vast majority see their declaration against the saloon as a clever trick with which to fool the people.

President Roosevelt has scored again in the passage by congress of the bill giving him powers to reorganize the departments of government and to reduce expenses. A large part of the savings will be made in the veterans' department. The idea of a life pension for every man who served in any war of the United States has become distasteful to the American people. The men who were injured in actual conflict deserve all that the government can give them. But it has been disclosed that a large number now on the pension list did not receive their disabilities in the service of their country or as a result of their service. The taxpayers owe them nothing, and should not be forced to pay them a pension. It is only through this power of dictator that they will ever be removed from pension rolls and from the backs of the taxpayers. It is practically political suicide for a member of congress to oppose a pension bill.

An opportunity will be given you next Monday to do some real swapping in Canyon. No matter what you may have that you do not need, bring it to Canyon on that date, and dispose of it. The spring period is here when it is a good time to dispose of anything extra which you do not need. The News has been carrying a free Swap column for several weeks. This is being discontinued with this issue, as all surplus articles should be disposed of by next Monday. Those who do not wish to swap, but have articles for sale may enter them in the auction sale. A fee of 5% will be charged on the sale price of each article.

The strength of Mussolini in European affairs is seen by the visit of MacDonald this week in Italy. There is little question about the restoration of power of Italy during the ten years of dictatorship under Mussolini—a power which is feared by all European nations. That he has used this power for the upbuilding of the nation rather than the mere strengthening of his own position may be seen from the respect which is accorded him and his nation by the other powers of the world.

Frank L. Denison has been declared by a district court as being ineligible to a position on the highway commission. The case will now go to the Supreme Court for final decision. It is almost a safe guess that Governor Ferguson will not succeed in placing Denison on this commission. All of the people of Texas are greatly interested in this case as it affects the future of highways—a subject very near to the people of Texas.

France has virtually agreed to pay the interest due the United States on December 15th. The question arises as to this change in attitude. France was as able to pay in December as she is now. But no doubt France realizes that she is dealing with a different nation today than she was under the Hoover administration when procrastination was the watchword.

Here's One-Man Submarine

While he can't skim along the ocean floor, or anything like that, James Bolar of Oakland, Calif., does have a lot of fun with his little one-man submarine, which is capable of traveling 15 feet below the water's surface. A motorboat tows the little craft while Bolar, laying flat in the main compartment, and looking out through the conning tower, operates levers to keep his 10-foot submarine cavorting below the surface.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Commercial Club Thursday evening of last week there was a good turnout of members and a lively time generally. President R. A. Terrill presided. Book Club Party

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated by the Canyon City Book Club with a party at the hospitable home of one of its most enthusiastic members, Mrs. C. R. Burrow. The News reporter counting heads made out ninety-two present, all included. Colonial styles had been followed by some of the ladies in dressing for the occasion, but the gentlemen, excepting R. A. Terrill, whose otherwise distinguished appearance was added to greatly by a good sized hatchet attached to the lapel of his coat, were in ordinary dress. Referring again to Mr. Terrill, some said he wore the hatchet in memory of and to perpetuate that famous apple tree episode in the life of our great first President, while others stated, and the weight of the testimony was on that side, that he was an avowed apostle of Carrie Nation and to "look out for the punch bowl."

WOULD HAVE PREVENTED THIS TRAGEDY

If only someone had spoken a word of warning, little Albert Lucero would have been alive today.

His short ten years had not taught him danger and death itself could seemingly come out of the skies where his kite soared high. And today Albert Lucero is dead because he did not know.

A short time ago, we carried on an educational advertising campaign telling of the dangers of kite flying near overhead electric wires. We feel that campaign accomplished its purpose in preventing such tragic occurrence as is recorded in this news item from a New Mexico town.

Another kite-flying season is nearing for the youngsters of our city. We ask you fathers and mothers, older sisters and brothers to watch out for the youngsters. Tell them of this danger, explain the danger to them so they will understand.

BOY FLYING KITE IS ELECTROCUTED

GALLUP, N. M., Feb. 27 (AP)—Ten-year-old Albert Lucero of Gallup was dead today, the victim of a kite-flying accident.

Witnesses said the boy was flying the kite in a rain. The string fouled on a power line and he was electrocuted. Authorities said the wet string acted as a conductor of electricity and sent a heavy charge through the boy's body. An inquest will not be held.

Young Lucero's father, Remigio, was killed last November when a truck under which he was working ran over him. The accident occurred on a hill near here after the truck had broken down.

Recently, in this column, some comparisons were made regarding the administration of RFC relief funds in Texas and those in Oklahoma. We believe the following figures just released, will be interesting.

When all the facts are known and appraised, Texas will win the distinction of providing the United States government with the best and most economical administration of relief funds of any state in the Union.

Of the 34 states receiving more than one allotment, Texas has received less per capita than any state in the Union excepting New Mexico and Georgia. Texas, so far, has received around 67c per capita of federal relief funds. Other states in the southwest central group have received far greater allotments. Louisiana leads with $3.62 per capita; Arkansas is next with $1.60 per capita; and Oklahoma next with 91c per capita. Texas is also under the per capita grant to states of her own size. Ohio, for instance, has total grants amounting to $1.60 per capita; Michigan of $2.50 per capita; Pennsylvania of $2.77 per capita; and Illinois $5.04 per capita. The mountain states, with Utah at $3.90 per capita, Montana $2.14 per capita, Colorado $2.12 per capita, Arizona $1.95 per capita, Idaho $1.43 per capita, and Nevada $1.37 per capita are also well over the standard of Texas at 67c per capita. The total amount allotted of the $300,000,000 provided by the Emergency Relief Act up to and including February 13, has been $168,015,628.22. For all states having more than one grant, this is an average of $1.67 per capita as against the 67c per capita allotment in Texas.

Judged on basis of per capita allotments, Illinois is 8 times worse off than Texas. It, perhaps, is true that Illinois has greater destitution and unemployment than Texas, but is is not true that Illinois has 8 times the destitution as found in Texas. Our neighboring state of Louisiana, perhaps, also has more destitution than Texas, but its destitution cannot be 6 times greater than that of Texas. Conceding that Texas is in better condition than any other state in the Union, it cannot be 2½ times better off than the average condition of the United States.

The answer to the great variation in per capita allotments to various states lies greatly in the fact that in Texas we are doing more to help ourselves than they are in other states. We, in Texas, are using federal relief funds merely as supplementary funds to which we add our own resources in order to meet our emergency situation. It is quite obvious from the figures that in other states they are not doing this and that they are relying almost wholly upon the federal government to meet their emergency situation.

In another respect, Texas will also excel all other states in the Union and that is in economical administration. Most states have set up huge staffs of paid workers including traveling auditors, field representatives, handwriting experts, supervisors, etc. In many cases, huge bureaucracies are paid by the federal government. In Texas, though, we are utilizin the agencies and organizations already in existence to administer these funds. We are relying upon voluntary and independent committees in each county for the administration. In Texas, we give to the citizen credit for sufficient intelligence, integrity and honesty to administer federal relief funds. In other states, they do not. The result is that in January and February relief funds were administered in the 130 counties of West Texas at a cost of approximately 1% as against Louisiana's cost of around 10% and as against a cost in Oklahoma of between ten and twenty thousand dollars a month for administration.

Selections for 1933 U. S. Ryder Cup Team, Which Will Try to Break the Present U. S.-Great Britain Tie, Did Not Surprise

BY PHILIP MARTIN

THERE'S Hagen, Sarazen, Dutra, Shute, Wood, Dudley, Diegel, Runyan and Smith—members of the U. S. Ryder Cup team, chosen to represent your Uncle Sammy in the classic golf tilt with stars of Great Britain this June.

Selection of this team by officials of the Professional Golfers' Association recently provoked but little comment, for these boys were the leaders in the past winter tourney through the south and along the Pacific coast.

For the fourth time, Walter Hagen, dean of American pro golfers, has been made captain of the team. Although Olin Dutra, by his victory in the P. G. A. tournament last year, earned the right to captain the invaders, he yielded the leadership to Hagen.

Hagen will lead his team to England and, on the Southport Ainsdale course, on June 26, will endeavor to break the tie standing of the countries at two wins each. The U. S. lost its last two intersectionals in 1929 and 1931.

* * *

ALL members of this year's Ryder Cup team have been playing good golf. Sarazen won the National and British Open last season; Denny Shute is considered the most consistent of the pros today, and cleaned up nearly $4000 in prize money in Florida tournaments the past winter season; Leo Diegel is exceptionally successful in Ryder Cup competition; Craig Wood set the Pacific coast galleries on fire this winter; Paul Runyan is the new sensation; and Horton Smith and Ed Dudley are hitting their stride.

Outside of Hagen, the two most colorful members of this year's squad are apt to be young Runyan and Wood.

The former, by his recent wins in the Agua Caliente Open, the Florida Year Round Club Open and the international four ball match while paired with Horton Smith, has jumped to second place in the winter money earnings, pulling down a total of $3,947.

Wood leads the pack of money earners after the winter rounds. He swept three straight big money tournaments into his bag in California, and pocketed about $4400.

* * *

WITH the selection of these nine players, the U. S. will be able to present a strong front, featuring the sensational playing of youngsters and the steadying influence of such veterans as Hagen and Sarazen.

The tenth spot on the team was left vacant, pending the winning of the American Open by a native of the United States. In event of a Canadian winning this honor, the tenth position will not be filled.

* * *

IN looking over the selections, it can be seen that positions on the Ryder Cup team were practically determined by the standings of the pros after the winter season.

All nine of those selected are included in the group of the first 15 golfers ranked in the money earnings.

This selection brought forth the objection that such stars as Al Espinosa, Wiffy Cox and Billy Burke were eliminated. But their playing has been under the standard of those selected, according to the winter tournament results, and that settles that argument.

SANITARY KISSING

We have been reading a chapter on sanitation in an up-to-the-minute doctor book, and find these instructions:

"You should never kiss a member of your family without having first thoroughly washed your hands and face.

This presents quite a problem to the business man, but it might be solved in this manner:

He should carry a small collapsible washpan in his hip-pocket; and in his vest pocket, a bottle of liquid soap and small thermos bottle of hot water. The minute he opens the front door of his home in the evening and sees wife approaching with smile on face, he should jerk out the collapsible pan, liquid soap, and thermos bottle, and begin the operation.

By the time he has completely put the germs to rout, his wife has become discouraged and gone back into the kitchen . . . and he won't have to kiss her.

Moral: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."—Letter in the Kansas City Star.

21 New Students Register at W. T. For Spring Work

After a spring vacation of a single day, students and faculty of the college returned Tuesday to begin the work of the last term of the long session. The winter term closed with only a small number of withdrawals, and the first day of enrollment found 21 new students lining up for work. It is expected that there will be several more new students before the end of the week during which they may enter for work.

A few students completed the work for their degrees at the end of the winter quarter; among these were Lloyd Neeley and Ray Robbins, of Canyon, and Geneva Griffin of Hereford.

Besides the campus activities that mark the beginning of the spring term, there are several new extension classes beginning. Dr. Albert Barnett met a class in Pampa Tuesday. State School Administration was chosen for study by the Pampa teachers who feel that they want to know more about the State's relation to public education.

Shipment of Hogs From Canyon Goes to Mexico Ranches

One of the largest shipments of breeding hogs ever shipped from Canyon left here Tuesday afternoon for Mexico. The shipment of two stock cars containing 117 head of choice Duroc Jerseys and Poland Chinas, was purchased from the Tierra Blanca Farms, located two miles east of Canyon, by Sr. El Terrazas, one of the largest stockmen of Mexico. He is a grandson of the Sr. Terrazas, once reputed to be the world's wealthiest cattleman.

All of the 117 hogs are registered and carry some of the best blood lines to be found on the Tierra Blanca Farms. Sr. Terrazas will place these on several of his ranches in central Mexico. However, the hogs are being shipped direct to an exhibition of livestock which will open within a few days at a point just south of Mexico City.

Wesley Tyler, a swine herdsman of the local farms will accompany the hogs and will be in charge of them until they are delivered to Sr. Terrazas. The Mexican stockman has purchased breeding stock here before, but this is the first shipment of any size which he has purchased in this territory and sent to his ranches in Mexico.

HOUSE AT PALO DURO PARK BADLY DAMAGED

S. V. Wirt, keeper at the Palo Duro Park, states that his house at the park was badly damaged last week by a booze party which sought refuge in the house. Bolts were taken out of the awning causing it to blow down and be smashed; the window panes were broken out; a hole punched in both the floor and the roof; and the oil stove torn up. Mr. Wirt is at a loss to know why any group would do so much damage without the least provocation.

By jimminy, I haven't got all that sand out of my eyes yit that blowed in there last Saturday and Sunday. Did any uv you all ever see sich a sandstorm. Well I don't believe I have, but if I have it wuz here in Texas, cause can't no other states have such dog-gonned dirt battles as kin Texas. Don't think I kin write much cause my eyes get all stuck up with mud but I'll try to make it interestin' what I do write.

Well, the banks have opened but still I can't git but a third uv my money, and if I can't have it all, I won't have any. That's jist the way with the Hawkinses, if they can't have all we won't have any.

Well, I guess you all had a swell track meet didn't you? I saw some of it last week and let me tell you somethin' that guy they call "Febe" or Feedme" or somethin' like that, shore can run. Then too, thars a little guy they called "Hammer," that shore ain't no slow guy if he is just a midget.

Bout this here queen bisness. I don't see how they pick out the best lookin' girl fer a queen, thar are so blamed many good lookin. uns I can't see but what theyd all do fer queens. I guess they can though. Sumbody showed this here senior queen to me, and I guess she is jist as good lookin' as any. She shure is nice to me. I ain't knowed her long, but she shore is a nice girl. I hope she wins this here queen race cause I like fer a queen to be real nice and good lookin' too, and she is both of em in one.

Looks kinda as if the depression was kinda over don't it. Shure am glad we got a president that kin kinda manage things sumhow. I guess the other feller was alright but anyway the people all blamed him with the hard times and I didn't want to be by myself and say he wasn't the cause of it, so I just said he did.

Mr. Carruth tells me that this here senior class is preparin' to have a swell time when they finish school this year. Sure does look like a nice bunch of young men and women in this class. I shore hope they can make it one of the most successful classes that ever graduated from this here school. They ought to all right with this feller Terry as their sponsor and this Brasuel boy as their class president. Shore seems like two mighty fine fellers to have charge of a class like this.

I guess I had better quit fer a while now, cause my eyes is jist about closed up with dirt.

Latin Students Chosen For Tournament

There is an annual Latin grammar test in Canyon High School to determine which first and second year Latin students will be allowed to represent Canyon. This contest was held last week.

In the first year class, Nell Slaton won first place, Joe Foote and Inez Drummond tied for second place. Another test must be taken to determine which will represent the class as second place.

The tournament will be held April 8 in Amarillo. Towns as far south as El Paso will be represented.

Supervisor's Column

Interest has run high in the elementary grades for the past week or two as the elimination contests were held to select representatives for the Interscholastic League meet which will be held in Canyon on March 24-25th. In most instances the teachers have allowed the contests to be an outgrowth of classroom work and used them to motivate class activities.

Very few of the athletic avents are open to elementary grade pupils of the city school. However both boys and girls will enter a team in play ground ball and the boys will be represented in junior track.

In the literary events there was wider choice. Even first, second, and third grade children are offered an opportunity to participate this year.

Much enthusiasm has been aroused in Tiny Tots Story-telling contest and the primary teachers feel that the training for same has been beneficial to their groups as a whole.

Thirty-two pupils went into the final elimination contest in spelling. The school is allowed two teams; the sub-junior team chosen from the third, fourth, and fifth grades, the junior team from the sixth and seventh grades. While all could not win, we are very proud of this group and feel that the interest in spelling has received a great impetus. Kate Eileen Donnell and Sherman Higdon compose the winning junior team with Marielle Oldham and C. L. Drummond as alternates. The sub-junior team is Ruth Nickelson and Betty Jo Foster with Grant Sharman and Esther Jordan as alternates.

In arithmetic Kate Eileen Donnell and Faye Plaster made highest scores which entitled them to compose the team representing the school. C. L. Drummond and Bonnie B. Dickinson are the alternates who ran the first two a close second.

Perhaps the keenest competition was in declamation which grew out of the regular classroom work in English. Each pupil was asked to memorize a poem suitable for declamation so in the final contest there were thirty-seven girls and fifteen boys. Marielle Oldham won first place for the girls and Mozelle Smith second. In the boys contest Avent Lair won first and Prentiss McKee second. Winners in this contest do not compete in the county meet but go directly to the district meet in April.

Final Teams Selected From Debate Squad

The tryouts for the girls and boys' debate teams were held Monday and Wednesday respectively.

Armor Lee Greenfield and Kathryn Robinson were selected for the girls' team to represent the school in the District Interscholastic League Tournament.

The girls entering in the contest were Robbie Foster, Armor Lee Greenfield, Laura Ferne Brian, and Kathryn Robinson.

The judges for the contest were Mr. I. B. Carruth, Miss Lois Goodrich, Mrs. John Davis, and Miss Thelma Thorp.

Joe Collins and Ogden Stroud were selected for the boys' team to represent the school in the tournament.

The boys who tried out were Ogden Stroud, Robert Black and Joe Collins. Mr. Batchelder of W. T. College selected the team.

Chapel

The chapel program on Wednesday, March 15, presented the students of the mathematics department under the direction of Miss Clark. In order to show the students the importance of mathematics in our everyday life, a play was presented which took place in King Math's kingdom.

The leading characters were King Math, Joe Collins; Mary, Margery Tankersley; Johnny F. A. Thomas; footmen, Glen Vetesk and Joe Foote, a student, Kathryn Robinson. Digits, Mary Ella Lowe, Laura Ferne Brian, Gailen Porter, Virginia Burgan, Lee Christine Cousins, Mary May Harrison, Gladys McBride and Myrtis Wright; professions, R. L. Burnam, astronomer and draftsman; H. B. Owen, chemist and business man; Leonard Brasuel, engineer and bookkeeper; George Brasuel, farmer and surveyor; Zudie Mae Bible, teacher, Ruth Frank, dietitian.

SCOUT SALE

The Girl Scouts will sell candy and sandwiches at the high school during the county meet Friday and Saturday. They will appreciate your patronage.

The home economics girls, under the supervision of Miss Brasuel, have undertaken a great responsibility in the preparing and serving of the Dairymen's banquet to be held at the high school Friday night.

Some of the duties of the girls, other than the preparation of the food, will be to secure dishes, arrange and decorate tables.

Another crying need is a church collection plate with a cushion in it so that you can't make a nickle sound like a half dollar when it drops.

Our government is trying to live within its income. Wish it would try living within ours once.

North Chinese Swordsman

Here is a member of the North China-Manchurian Dardo Teh, or "Big Sword" corps, which fought valiantly against the charges of Japanese cavalry around Kai-Lu, in Jehol. Armed only with the traditional big sword of the Orient, these men are exceptionally skilful with the weapon and can use it with deadly effect.

Miss Malone Tells Club of Life In Spain

Miss Malone of W. T. S. T. C. spoke to the El Circulo Castilian club at the meeting last Tuesday about life in Spain. Miss Malone lived in Spain for a year and has taught in the schools there.

The school where Miss Malone taught was both a boarding and day school for boys and girls under high school age. In the school there is a lack of order since the teachers are all of the same rank. The pupils are taught to recite rather than to grasp the meaning of their lessons. The primary children are allowed to develop their personality with as little interference from teachers as possible.

The Spaniards usually have four meals. At seven they have a roll and cup of coffee and at eleven they have their second breakfast. Dinner is at one and lasts two hours. They eat supper at eight or nine o'clock. The school clock is kept half an hour slow so that the students can get to meals on time.

Matinees in Spain are at six o'clock, while the regular night performance starts at ten o'clock and last until two. Their hot dogs are called "Medio a Noche" or midnight because they are usually eaten after the theatre.

Pampa Debate on March 28

On the night of March 28, both boys and girls from Pampa will debate here. Everyone is especially invited as this is expected to be one of the most interesting debates of the year. Pampa showed their ability to debate last year when their girls won the district championship.

Who's Who

Mr. Walter Kirkpatrick has been janitor of the Canyon schools for two years. He says that he enjoys his work except when the sand blows.

He was born in Wilbarger county, Texas; but his family moved to Hall county soon after. He went to school in Hereford. When he was a young man, he left Hereford and moved to Quay county, New Mexico, where he lived until he came to Canyon nineteen years ago.

For 25 years he has been a cowpuncher, having worked on the old XIT ranch, the Matador ranch and on the Whittenburg ranch. He was working on the Whittenburg ranch when he became janitor. He likes horses and riding and enjoys working with machinery.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Kirkpatrick has no children, but he says, "There are just two children in our family—my wife and I."

Saturday night, March 18, the J. U. G. club met at Athalee Overton's home. Because of the sand storm a very few were able to attend. Those present were Gailen Porter, Armor Lee Greenfield, Miss Ann Smith and the hostess, Athalee Overton. The night was spent in working jig-saw puzzles, eating and tumbling. Sunday morning the girls went to the Palo Duro canyons and spent the day.

This is check-up week for the seniors to see if everyone will have the required amount of credits at the end of school. Mr. Carruth states that so far every student has checked up to par.

Debaters Win Over Friona Here Friday

Eagle debaters debated the Friona teams in Canyon, Friday, Mar. 17, on the Interscholastic League question.

The Canyon teams were Armor Lee Greenfield, Kathryn Robinson, Ogden Stroud, and Joe Collins.

The Canyon boys won a 3 to 0 victory over the Friona boys. The decision of the girls' debate was 2 to 1.

The question for debate was Resolved: that one half of all state and local revenues in Texas should be derived from sources other than taxes on tangible property.

The judges were Rev. L. R. Hudson, Joe H. Thompson, and Miss Wilmoth Gamble.

Home Economics Dept. Displays Style Dresses

The second year Home Economics classes finished their class projects Thursday and had their style shows Friday. The judges who were selected from the college were as follows: Gladys Stewart, Bernice Bessire and Dena Fay Jameson for the morning class and Mildred Gregory, Harriet Dickinson and Edith Burgess for the afternoon class.

The dresses were tailored and semi-tailored. They were judged on general appearance and workmanship. The dresses of the following students were judged as the best from both classes: Jean Burgess, Jennie Lee Noble, Lela Hickox, Dora Mae Plaster, Mary Jean Mickle, and Mary Mae Harrison. These dresses shall be judged over by some college teachers and students and the best one of the group will go to Mineral Wells with its owner where the dresses will compete with many others from Texas schools.

These dresses and a few more of the best ones were displayed in the windows of the People's Store and McCarty's.

To pay the expenses of the girl who goes to the Home Making Rally, the home economics girls are making money by giving banquets, a play, and stunts.

School Favorites To Be Crowned All-Stunt Night

The campaign and election for the high school king and queen will be held all next week in the high school building. The classes will use whatever means they see fit to secure votes, which will be 1c apiece, for their representatives.

The polls will close Friday afternoon and the winners announced.

Then on Saturday night, April 1, the winners of the contest will be crowned and proclaimed King and Queen of Canyon High School for 1933. The coronation will be a part of the All-School Stunt Night which will be the first of its kind ever to be held in Canyon High School.

The club or class having the best stunt will be awarded $2.50. Everyone is working hard on their stunt which they think will win the $2.50, but they are wrong because my club will win the prize.

The entire public is cordially invited to come to the High School, the night of April 7, and spend an enjoyable evening for only 10c.

Everybody, big, little, young, and old all come. We'll show you a wonderful time.

THIS CAMPAIGN SITUATION

The students of the high school are looking forward to several weeks of vigorous campaigning to determine the school king and queen. Each class is doing its best to gain the election for its students.

The freshmen hold great hopes for their representatives of their class. The king, Jack Taylor, and the queen, Ruby Guthrie, are students who might well represent our school.

The juniors plan to work very hard for the students they have chosen, Athalee Overton and Alton Brasuel. These nominees of the approaching election have distinguished themselves this year in athletics, and the class feels it has done well in their choice.

The seniors are also backing their representatives to the very last. Margery Tankersley, the queen, and Austin Cone, the king, are both popular and worthy of the honor bestowed on them.

An election of this sort is held every year in the high school to elect a school queen and king. The students on whom this honor falls are crowned and preside in the program given at the school carnival. The funds from this campaign will be combined with those from the carnival and will go to buy the senior gift to the school.

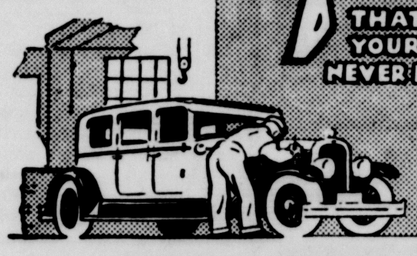
FOUND! the "hidden quart" THAT STAYS UP IN YOUR MOTOR AND NEVER DRAINS AWAY

CONOCO

...Mechanic Elder Schaffner Found the Hidden Quart... Also that Without it, Motors Show 50% to 60% Greater Wear ...So He Switched to Conoco



* The Germ Process (exclusive Conoco patent) imparts to this motor oil that peculiar ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces. Of the first filling about one quart will "hide" itself up in your motor's precious working parts. This hidden quart n-e-v-e-r drains away. It becomes a part of the motor itself, worth its weight in gold.

MECHANIC SCHAFFNER REPORTS ON DISCOVERY:

"I never did believe what Conoco Germ Processed oil would do; not until an Essex owner, with 25,000 miles on his speedometer, asked me to check his motor and put in new parts where necessary. It surely surprised me; clearance of pistons was only four 1-thousandths; of bearings only three 1-thousandths of an inch.

"This owner said he had used Conoco Germ Processed oil since the car was new. I have overhauled many another Essex at 25,000 miles, which has not used this oil, and found the wear 50% to 60% greater. Now I recommend Conoco Germ Processed Oil to my friends, and have changed to it in my own car."—Elder Schaffner, Highland, Ill.

Stop Cruel Motor Wear . . . Escape its Painful Cost

Don't Wait Another Day to Drain and Refill With Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil

To a motor, lack of lubrication is cruelty indeed. You are too "humane" to permit it, if only you knew the truth. But motors suffer in silence till costly damage is done. Then you pay . . . and pay . . . and pay.

50% of motor wear occurs in the moments following a cold start. Ordinary oil drains back into the crankcase and leaves the motor dry, till it is pumped back up again. Not so, with Conoco's hidden quart. It stays up in the motor and never drains away.

This is proved. Even with the crankcase empty, due to accident, users of this oil have driven many miles, without damage, on the *hidden quart alone.

Isn't it smart and thrifty to have a *hidden quart up in the parts of your motor, where you are sure it cannot fail? It is so simple to be safe! so foolhardy to be in doubt. Tend to it today. Go now, drain and refill with the *hidden-quart oil. Do it for safety's sake.

STRANGE SIGHTS GREET EYE AFTER QUAKE

Unusual sights abounded in Long Beach, Calif., after the recent earthquake which left much of the city in ruins. The complete interior of a market and apartment house were exposed to view when the temblor lopped off one side of the building. At bottom left,, a congregation is shown attending religious services held in a back yard before an improvised altar. At bottom right, a peeved Long Beach resident is shown doing a bit of mining to learn how his auto bore up under several tons of brick.

Sees Her Boy Become President

Few mothers have known the pride and exaltation that Sara Delano Roosevelt felt when her son, Franklin, shown above with her, became the 32nd president of the United States on Inauguration Day. Only five other women have experienced this ambition of every mother: Mary Ball Washington, Jane Knox Polk, Hannah Simpson Grant, Eliza Ballou Garfield and Nancy Allison McKinley.

WITHOUT RAILROAD PROSPERITY—WHAT?

An article in Railway Age on "Railway Purchases—A Vital Force in Business Recovery," brings out vividly the influence of the transport problem on the lives of all workers, all farmers, all producers.

In the five years previous to 1930, railway purchases averaged over two billion dollars a year. In the past three years reductions in these purchases have amounted to almost $3,000,000,000.

This decline is greater than all the loans and appropriations made by the federal government for public works and relief.

It has brought distress to a multitude of communities, has affected every state in the Union, and has thrown hundreds of thousands of workers, in a large number of industries, out of employment.

The iron and steel industries, the lumber and copper industries, the oil and coal and electric supply business, in the past, have counted on the railroads for a heavy percentage of their sales.

Restoration of railway purchasing power is indispensable to business recovery. No one can doubt that stimulated rail activity would be one of the greatest blows we could strike against unemployment, against low general purchasing power, against depression.

Some people sing with a great deal of feeling, and yet they don't feel as bad as the singing sounds.

Puddle, "Girl-Faced Dog"

Many people have heard of Jo-Jo, the dog-faced boy, but Puddle, shown above, is a girl-faced dog. Puddle is wondering sadly why people are always making him sit down. He doesn't know that when he is in a sitting position, the profile of a girl appears in the hair on his side.

A philosopher is any ordinary citizen who believes that whatever happens to others, so long as it doesn't call for the undertaker is good for them.

ABOUT OVERDRAFTS

OVERDRAFTS ARE NOT GOOD FOR THE PERSON CREATING SAME NOR FOR THE BANK. There are plenty of reasons why a depositor's account should never be overdrawn. The principal reason is: That an overdraft is in a way a forced loan and tends to detract from one's credit rather than add to it.

Overdrafts may sometimes be honored but such transactions usually serve to remind the bank granting same that correct business methods are not being followed.

The First National and the First State are here to render you the best of their service in every way possible, and certainly we want to be accommodating—but we do not desire overdrafts—in a way, unsecured loans that detract from your credit, injure our own standing and endanger the interests of our depositors.

Plains Pioneers' Signatures Are Being Gathered

An unusual addenda is being made to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum by Miss Katherine Patrick of Clarendon who is making a collection of signatures of people who have lived in the Panhandle since before 1900. These signatures will be bound into a book and presented to the society on the occasion of its annual convention, April 14, as a gift from the Panhandle Old Settlers Society.

The book, which will grow more valuable as the years roll on, will be an interesting index of the pioneers in this section of the country.

All those who have been in the Panhandle since the above date are invited to write their names on plain white paper and send them to Miss Patrick who will enter them in her book.

Many Applications For Farm Seed Are Sent Headquarters

Applications for government seed loans are being mailed daily from the office of W. H. Upchurch, County Agent. No checks have yet been received by the farmers, but it is expected that some remittances will be received within a few days.

J. M. Redfearn has been assisting the committee in the preparation of the applications for these loans.

Education

The following week the House Education committee held hearings on the Anderson, Metcalfe, Hughes bill which proposed to reduce W. T. and other colleges to the rank of junior colleges, and to create a single administrative board for all of the institutions. Mr. Hill lead in the discussion opposing the change for all of the teachers colleges. All of the colleges in the state have expressed opposition to the bill.

Regarding the one board idea, Mr. Hill stated that it was presented with a view of efficiency and to reduce costs. This idea prevails in all phases of American life today, as shown by the chain stores. This nation is face to face with the evil effects of autocracy of wealth. Economically we are today just where we were politically at the time of the Revolutionary War. So far as efficiency is concerned, the monarchy is the most efficient of all governments, as shown by the recent government in Germany. Efficiency and democracy are not good bed fellows. Democracy depends upon the enlightenment of the masses, which are slow moving in thought and deed. Democracy appeals to the best in the people. The idea of centralization in education is sponsored by the wealthy in the United States who would build up great educational centers away from the masses of the people. There are many political leaders, who believe that general education has been carried too far, and that education should be restricted to those who are able to buy and pay for it.

Highways

County Engineer Gohmert states that this is only a temporay method of holding the caliche, as it is expected that the contract will be let for the asphalt topping as soon as warm weather will permit the topping.

Judge S. B. Orton stated Tuesday that the commissioners court had not been notified about the oil topping, since this is only a method of maintenance of the highways, and is a part of the state's expense in connection with the agreement of maintenance.

Since the lifting of the banking holiday, construction work on the highway west has been resumed. This work will be pushed rapidly now that open weather is predicted.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Landers of McLean were here Saturday visiting their son, LeRoy, who accompanied them home to spend Sunday.

Congressional Medal Of Billy Dixon Is Placed in Museum

Billy Dixon's congressional medal of honor, said to be the first ever awarded to a resident of the Texas Panhandle has been placed in the recently completed Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum by his widow, Mrs. Olive K. Dixon of Amarillo.

Congress awarded the medal to the scout and Indian fighter for heroism at the Battle of Buffalo Wallow, in Hemphill county, September 12, 1876, the last skirmish with Indians in the Panhandle which could be described as a battle.

Six white men participated in the battle, and the five who survived received congressional medals for their valor. All of the men were injured, and one of them died during "the night of horrors," in a shallow buffalo wallow where the Americans sought protection from the Indian attack.

Pioneers who fostered the plan for the building of the museum look upon the Buffalo Wallow fight as one of the "outstanding examples of bravery and fortitude" among the many battles and other hardships incident to the conquering and settlement of the plains.

Dixon and Amos Chapman, army scouts, were sent out with four soldiers by General Nelson A. Miles, located at the time in the lower part of the Panhandle, to deliver dispatches to Fort Supply, now in Oklahoma. It was at daybreak, just as they topped a ridge between the Washita river and Gageby creek that the small party was surrounded by several hundred Indians.

Chapman Hit First

The men were caught in the open, but gradually made their way to a buffalo wallow in a sandy draw about 400 yards away. Chapman was one of the first hit. After the party reached the wallow, it was learned Chapman was unable to follow, and Dixon left the cover he had fought hard to gain to rescue his wounded companion. Every man in the group was credited with some heroic act during the battle, but Dixon's rescue of Chapman was regarded as outstanding.

A sudden rain squall in the late afternoon drove the Indians away and provided water for the wounded men, although it was mixed with their own blood.

On the morning of the second day after the battle, a supply train brought food for the five survivors, but refused to leave ammunition or soldiers to defend the wounded men. Dixon and his party had lost their horses early in the fighting and their ammunition was exhausted. Only two of the men were able to walk. They remained in the hole two days longer until help arrived from General Miles.

Strapped to Saddle

Chapman's right leg, shattered by a bullet early in the fighting was tied to the stirrup of his saddle and the stirrup to the saddle cinch for the two-day ride to Fort Supply.

Dixon received the medal award in 1894. In recommending medals for the group, General Miles wrote: "The simple recital of their deeds, and the mention of the odds against which they fought, how the dying aided the wounded by exposure to more wounds after the power of action was gone alone present a scene of a cool courage, heroism and self sacrifice which duty as well as inclination prompts us to recognize, but which we can not fully honor."

Plans Being Made For Dedication of Museum, April 14

With the Panhandle Plains Historical Society's Annual meeting just three weeks away, officers of the Society are bending every effort to complete the arrangements for the three-session program on April 14.

The morning session will have as its special feature a pageant of the Panhandle's development. This is a joint project of the Lloyd Green Allen Scholarship Society and the Senior Class, Miss Edna Graham being sponsor of the former and Ernest Cabe president of the latter organization.

Professors Sheffy, Debo and Anderson of the history department, Condron, of the government department, Brown and Batchelder of Speech, Robinson and Hill of Art are all lending their assistance to make this hour and a half program one of impressive beauty.

The afternoon session will be devoted to the business of the Society, and all who come will hear a report of the successful carrying out of the building project which has been the major activity during the past three years.

Election of officers and planning for the next year's work will be tasks of the afternoon.

When the members and friends gather at Cousins Hall for the annual banquet, the main attraction will be the speech by Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, recognized as one of Texas' finest after dinner speakers. Appropriate music will add to the pleasure which the renewing of happy acquaintances will have at this time.

Professor L. F. Sheffy is in general charge of the plans for the meeting, working with the president, T. D. Hobart of Pampa, and other officers to make this spring's meeting the most successful that the organization has ever had.

In the meantime every possible hour is being used to get the great mass of materials properly arranged in the Museum Building. Mr. Sheffy and his corps of assistants are working almost day and night to have the building ready to open to the public on April 14. Because of the great amount of work to be done before that date, the officers of the Society state that it will not be possible to allow visitors in the building before that time.
